ioneer Announces Plan of Operations for Rhyolite Ridge Lithium-Boron Project Been Accepted by BLM

31 August 2020

ioneer announced the Plan of Operations (Plan) for the Company's Rhyolite Ridge Lithium-Boron Project (Project) in Nevada has been deemed complete and formally accepted by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), marking a major milestone toward the completion of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) process. The Plan of Operations is the foundational permitting document for the Project and will become the basis for compliance during operations and closure. The Plan represents the main body of work required for permitting and drew on 14 baseline studies that have been completed over a 2-year period.
